

Success Recognised!

Local training provider Jobforce Wales of Cowell Street, Llanelli has recently been recognised by Estyn, Her Majesty's Inspectorate for Education and Training in Wales for the high standard of their teaching and training and the high levels of achievement by their learners. Jobforce Wales received the highest grade, grade 1 – good with outstanding features, for both of these categories as well as for the category of providing opportunities that meet the needs of the learners and the wider community, including employers. All other inspection areas were graded 2 – good features and no important shortcomings.

As providers of Apprenticeship programmes for employed people of any age in the Retail, Warehousing, Customer Service, Management and Advice and Guidance occupations across South West Wales, Jobforce Wales offers training, paid for by the Welsh Assembly Government and European Social Fund and at no cost to the employer, for any of their employees. Work Based Learning takes place entirely in the workplace with minimum disruption and helps improve staff performance. Jobforce Wales also provides a varied programme of opportunities, also free of charge, to people of all ages who are currently unemployed and want to get back to work in the short or medium term.

Jobforce Wales has served the Llanelli travel to work area, Swansea, Carmarthen and surrounding districts for the past twenty three years, and staff have worked hard in partnership with employers and learners, to achieve these results and this excellent inspection result recognises their efforts.
